Hi everyone.

We've gotten some questions about whether we should share information about the spill or EPA's role on our website/social media.

HQ and Region 3 are leading responses to queries. To date, we're not preparing a crisis response site, nor are we discussing it via social media. We are aware of one site on the EPA on-scene coordinator system about the spill.

Please trust that what to post and when is front and center. As always, we'll share any changes.

If you have questions about responding to specific questions, please contact Caroline Behringer and me.

Thanks!
